SECTION IV – POKER RULES:

1. Floor Managers are to consider the best interest of the game and fairness as the top priority in the decision-making process. Unusual circumstances can on occasion dictate that decisions in the interest of fairness take priority over technical rules. The floor person's decision is absolute final.
2. Chip-Up Rule is the removal of denomination of chips no longer in use. When it is time to color up chips, floor manager will round chip value up to the smallest chip now in play. Players found to have lower denomination chips remaining in their stack after the chip-up break will forfeit those chips. Players are encouraged to watch their chip stacks.
3. Each side pots during an all in situation are to be split as separate pots. Dealers should note not to mix together these chips before they are split.
4. Odd chips of lowest denomination in play will go into the center of the pot for the next hand.
5. Calling-for-clock procedure: Once a reasonable amount of time which is no less than 1 minute and clock is called a player is given 30 seconds to act. If player has not made his decision a 5 second countdown will take place. If player has still not acted, the hand will be dead. Any players intentionally stalling the progress of the game will incur penalty in accordance to Rule #8.
6. Dead button rule will be used. Dead button is a button that cannot advance due to the elimination of a player or the seating of a new player into the position between the small blind and the button.
7. Any player exposing his or her cards with action pending may incur a penalty, but will not have a dead hand. The penalty will begin at the end of the hand. All players are entitled to see the exposed card(s), if requested. A penalty may also be imposed if player throws cards off the table, violates the one player-to-a-hand rule or engages in similar behavior. All penalties will be imposed in accordance to Rule #8.
8. PENALTIES. In its sole and absolute discretion, EPT may impose penalties that include verbal warnings and missed-hand penalties. A missed-hand penalty will be assessed as follows:
 - a. The offender will miss one hand for each player at the table multiplied by the number of rounds specific to the penalty. Staff can assess one, two, three, four-round penalties or disqualification.
 - b. Repeat infractions are subject to escalating penalties. Repeat infractions do carry over into next tournaments.
9. Determining Dealer. In all games, the button is decided by high card. In the event the high card is a tie, another card is drawn. In games where dealer alternates, someone is asked to take the initiative in turning out the high cards.
10. A player who is disqualified shall have his or her chips removed from play. No dinner or buffet refund will be provided.
11. A player must be at his or her seat by the time all players have been dealt complete initial hands to have a live hand. "At your seat" is defined as within reach or touch of your chair.
12. All cards will be turned face up once a player is all in and all action is complete. If a player accidentally folds/mucks their hand before cards are turned up, floor manager reserves the right to retrieve folded/mucked cards if they are clearly identifiable.
13. If a player puts in a raise of 50 % or more of the previous bet but less than the minimum raise, he or she will be required to make a full raise. The raise will be exactly the minimum raise allowed.
 - a. In no-limit, an all-in bet of less than a full raise does not reopen betting to a player who has already acted.
14. Putting a single oversized chip into a pot will be considered a call if the player doesn't announce a raise. Putting in two $500 chips on a 400-800 without an announcement will also be considered a call even though it is two chips. If a player puts an oversized chip into the pot and says, "Raise", but doesn't state the amount, the raise will be the maximum allowable up to the denomination of that chip. To make a raise with a single oversized chip, a verbal declaration must be made before the chip hits the surface. After the flop, an initial bet of a single oversized chip without comment will signify the bet equal to the size of the chip.

15. Verbal declarations in response to betting are binding. Two witnesses are necessary to constitute verbally binding action, so speak clearly.
16. In no-limit, a raise must be made by:
 - a. placing the full amount in the pot in one or more continuous motion(s) without going back towards the players stack or
 - b. verbally declaring the full amount prior to the initial placement of the chips into the pot or
 - c. verbally declaring “raise” prior to chip placement of the call, then completing the action with one additional motion back to the player’s stack.
17. Deck changes will be on the floor manager that evening. Players may not request a deck change unless a card is damaged or missing from the deck.
18. When time has elapsed in a round and tournament staff announces a new round, the new limits apply to that hand beginning with the first riffle. Posted blinds do not constitute the hand has started.
19. TABLE TALK. English only at the table. Players may not talk about their hand while players are still in the hand or be subject to the penalties in section III rule #7 and section IV rule #8.
 - a. Even if players are the only two players in the hand, the contents cannot be discussed
20. Players must keep their highest denomination chips visible at all times.
21. Verbal declarations as to the content of the player’s hand are not binding. Any player deliberately miscalling his hand may be penalized in accordance to rule #8 section IV.
22. “Rabbit hunting” in cases where hands are concluded prior to the last card being dealt, the next card to be dealt will not be exposed under any circumstances. This slows the game down and is a nuisance to those not in the hand.
23. A player who intentionally dodges his or her blinds when moving from a broken table will incur a penalty in accordance with Rule #8 section IV.
24. All chips must be visible at all times. Players may not hold or transport chips in a manner that takes them out of view. Players will be warned at time of first offense and repeat offenders will face disqualification and/or forfeit chips that were hidden.
25. The breaking order for tables of an event is at the discretion of the acting manager on duty. Players going from a broken table to fill in seats assume the rights and responsibilities of the position. Players can get the big blind, the small blind or the button. The only place a player cannot get a hand is between the small blind and the button.
 - a. Basically, a player cannot change the natural order of the blinds and must assume the responsible of the seat they are sat at.
 - b. Floor manager breaks tables and assigns players at random to different tables. It is the ‘luck of the draw’ as to where players sit and whether they get a spot that is favorable or unfavorable in respect to the blinds.
26. Play will halt at any table that is at least four players short in 8 sided games. At certain points in the tournament, it may be necessary for tournament director to continue play at tables down to five players. Director has final say if telling players to continue play at 5. Players are instructed to keep playing unless floor manager orders a stop in play.

- a. Typical times when tables play at 5 players is, but not limited to, when 3 tables are down to 17 players, there must be two tables of 6 and one of 5 until one more player is eliminated or when two tables are down to 10 players.
27. Tables are only balanced when a table is three players short on 8 handed tournaments and 4 players short in 10 handed games.
28. Misdeal Situations:
- a. Exposure of one of the first two cards dealt is a misdeal.
 - b. If during the initial deal two or more extra cards have been dealt
 - c. First card was dealt to the wrong person who has seen the card
 - d. Cards have been dealt to an empty seat or a player not entitled to a hand
 - e. A player has been dealt out who is entitled to a hand
 - f. If two players cannot decipher who's cards belongs to who
29. If a dealer kills an unprotected hand, the player will have no redress and will not be entitled to his or her chips back. An exception would be if a player raised and his or her raise had not yet been called, he or she would be entitled to receive his or her raise back. Players are encouraged to protect your hand.
30. A dealer cannot kill a winning hand that is face up and was obviously the winning hand. Players are encouraged to assist in reading tabled hands if it appears that an error is about to be made.
31. Poker is a game for individuals. Soft play will result in penalties that may include forfeiture of chips and/or disqualification. Chip dumping will result in disqualification. Do not discuss the content of your hand while that hand is still in play or be subject to penalty in accordance to rule #8. Players may not receive consultation from an outside source or be subject to a penalty in accordance to rule #8.
32. When heads up, the small blind is on the button and acts first. When beginning heads-up play, the button may need to be adjusted to ensure no player takes the big blind twice.
33. At the end of the last round of betting the player who made the last aggressive betting action in that betting round must show first. If there was no bet during the final round, the player to the left of the button shows first, and so on in a clockwise direction.
34. Acting dealers will be responsible for calling string bets/raises. All players at the table are encouraged to assist in a calling a string bet/raise. A string bet/raise is defined as attempting to bet/raise in multiple movements that include a return to a player's stack without a prior verbal declaration of intent or include deception intended to induce action out of turn before a player's action is complete. Raises must be made in accordance to rule #15.
35. Player must show both cards to win the pot if their bet/raise has been called. Players calling an all-in raise must show both cards whether they have won the pot or not.
36. A player who is disqualified shall have his or her chips removed from play and no refund will be provided for that disqualified player. Any player who forfeits play for health or other personal reasons after the start of the tournament will have his or her chips blinded off accordingly.
37. Players are obligated to protect the other players in the tournament at all times. Therefore, whether in a hand or not, players may not:
- a. disclose contents of live or folded hands
 - b. advise or criticize play at any time
 - c. read a hand that hasn't been tabled. While in a hand, players may not
 - d. discuss hands or strategy with any spectator, or

- e. seek or receive consultation from an outside source.
38. Players must act in turn at all times. Action out of turn may or may not be binding. If a player acts out of turn and the action does not change by the time it is that player's turn to act, that player's action is binding. Action changes only if a player makes an initial bet or raises before the action gets back to the person that acted out of turn. Action does not change when the player in front of a player acting out of turn checks, calls or folds. If a player acts out of turn and the action changes, the person who acted out of turn may change their action by calling, raising or folding and may have their chips returned. Players may not intentionally act out of turn to influence play before them. Players will receive a warning for the first occurrence of acting out of turn, and will receive a penalty, in accordance with Rule No. 8, every time after.
39. Floor manager should have most updated copy of tournament rules with him/her on location.
